

INTRODUCTION –

The Ultimate Fighting Championship (UFC) is an American Mixed Martial Arts promotion company which held its inaugural event in 1993. It is the leading MMA promotion among its rival companies. It organizes events worldwide having 12 weight classes of which 8 are men and 4 are women. The fight takes place in an octagon cage, with the 2 fighters supervised by a referee, and evaluated by 3 judges, who scored on the basis of striking, grappling, and control.

VISUALIZATION-

CONCLUSION-

The visualization has 4 graphs and a map, each offering key insights into UFC events and fight statistics.

The map shows the number of events held in different countries, indicated by the size and color of the circle. USA has the most events.

Next is the graph of Strikes Attempted vs Strikes Landed, displaying strike accuracy. The graph shows that Max Holloway has the most strike count followed by Frankie Edgar and Rafael Dos Anjos.

The Gender pie chart shows the male vs female distribution. Concluding that MMA is a male dominated sport.

The Referee that has the most number of fights supervised is Herb Dean having almost twice as many as the next with more than 2000 bouts. Followed by John McCarthy who has been the with the organization from its early days.

The last graph shows the different ending to the fights. Red being Non – Title fights and blue being title fights.
